El Paso. Tex., January 2.—The two-year-olds are racing to their work at Juarez, B. A. Jones was made the favorite for today's juvenile dash on the strength of his morning's performance and he justified the support accorded him by an easy victory. Yale and Tower, coupled as the F. D. Weir entry, were the most prominent of the others throughout the race.

W. C. Clancy saddled two winners in Little Jane and Genmell; the last-named was heavily backed and ran a game race. The old horse was messed whout badly at the helf mile general.

W. C. Claney saddled two winners in Little Jane and Gemmell; the last-named was heavily backed and ran a game race. The old horse was messed about badly at the half-mile ground, where the turn is sharp. He was forced to fall back to last position and jockey Claver did not rush him, but allowed him to make up ground of his own accord. Opposite the paddock entrance he moved up with a whirlymid rush and gained the decision in the last stride.

whirlwind rush and gained the decision in the last stride.

The suspension against the stable of M. Shields has been made indennite by the stewards.

Jockey W. W. Taylor was suspended for five days by the stewards for rough riding on Ursula Emma in the second race.

Bookmaker Willie Applegate drew a stand in the ring again today.

W. C. Clancy has released jockey R. Estep.

Jockey John Loftus today signed a contract to ride for J. E. Widener in France, where he is to report on April 1. He will leave here about March 1.

Horsemen are taking keen interest in the special race that has been arranged for Sunday next at six furlongs, in which it seems certain that Jefferson Livingston's great horse, from Mask, and the sensational filly, Pan Zareta, will meet, Trainer Hart Newman says that he has no excuses to offer for Pan Zareta and will surely send her to the post. He added that he might not beat the great son of bisguise, but he did say that if Iron Mask beats Pan Zareta with the track in its present fast condition he will have to create a new American record for the distance. According to reports from the Livingston Zareta.

After a thorough examination of Osaple's recent injury in a race, trainer Kay Spence ascertained that the skin was only broken over his right hind tendon and the colt will soon be back to the races again. Fortunately he ran in that race with a boot on the leg that was struck and that saved him from being badly cut down.

PRINCIPAL MONEY-WINNING OWNERS OF 1913 IN AMERICA

The number of owners of racing stables whose horses won in excess of $4,000 in North America during 1913 was greater than at any time since 1909 and was close to the showing for that year. The low water mark in this particular was reached in 1911. The following year saw a slight improvement and the past year a much greater one. During 1913 owners winning $4,000 and over divided $1,766,603, as against $1,503,628 in 1912 and $1,250,892 in 1911. A study of the tabulation whileh follows will reveal the interesting fact that from year to year, regardless of the total won by the winners of $4,000 and over, the amount left for less fortunate owners has varied but little. The residue for 1908, for instance, was $1,299,890; in 1909 it was $1,159,002; in 1910, $1,122,635; in 1911, $1,087,065; in 1912, $1,087,997, and in 1913 $1,154,360. The compilation referred to is as follows:

Leadership among the money-winning owners for the year goes to Harry Payne Whitney. It is the first time that such distinction has been his since the thoroughbred interests of his late lamented father were turned over to him in 1905. The elder Mr. Whitney had led the winning owners of the country in 1903, the year preceding his death, with a record of $102,569. During the following year the Whitney horses raced in the name of H. B. Duryea and headed the list with winnings of $200,107. In 1905 Harry Payne Whitney began to race in his own name and finished the season second to James R. Keene in the winning list with stable earnings of $170,447. In 1906 Mr. Whitney stood third to James R. Keene and Tromas Hitchcock. Jr., with winnings of $87,775. In 1907 he once again finished second to James R. keene, with winnings of $17,694. The end of 1908 found him in sixth place, winnings $73,650. That was the last time he figured prominently in this country until the year just closed, although in the interim a division of his stable had raced with marked success in England. His American record for the years in which his stable failed to achieve prominence was as follows: 1909, $15,210; 1910, $15,015; 1911, $3,945; 1912, $7,550.

Mr. Whitney's record for 1913 is 31 airsts 22 seconds and 28 thirds weath $25,000.

Mr. Whitney's record for 1913 is 31 dirsts, 32 seconds and 28 thirds, worth $55,656. This is slightly behind John W. Schorr's showing as the leading owner of 1912. Mr. Schorr's record was 63 firsts, 38 seconds, 35 thirds and $58,225. The Whitney stable was raced principally on the New York and other eastern tracks under the direction of that past master in the art of conditioning the thoroughbred, James Rowe, whose skill as a trainer played such an important part in the phenomenal success of the stable of the late James R. Keene. Pennant's success in the Futurity at Saratoga proved the greatest single factor in the excellent showing of the Whitney stable for the year, this race alone being worth over $15,000 to the winner. The unprecedented feat of Whisk Broom II. in winning the Metropolitan, Brooklyn and Suburban Handicaps accounted for nearly $10,000 more of the stable's earnings. The two-year-old Some Kid, by winning one of the Piping Rock Subscription races, was also an important contributor. These were all that won upwards of $5,000. The record of the stable in detail is shown below:

Next to Mr. Whitney in the winning owners list comes J. L. Holland, with the highly creditable record of sixty-seven races won and stable earnings of $42,445. Burling the preceding year the Holland horses won forty-one races and $12,026. The greatest individual contributor to the Holland total was that sterling seven-year-old son of Sombrero and Berriedale, Donald Macdonald, whose winning of twenty-two races and $16,080 probably never has been duplicated by a horse of his age in this country. After the Holland stable comes that of Richard T. Wilson, wealthy New Yorker and president of the Saratoga Association for the Improvement of the Breed of Horses. Mr. Wilson's 1913 record of lifty-nine races and $41,585 won is far better than the winning of forty-eight races and $29,931 that gave him fourth place in the winning list of 1912.

Fourth in the 1913 list comes H. G. Bedwell, whose horses won more frequently than those of any other owner. This stable failed to make as good a showing as in 1912, when it stood second to J. W. Schorr. Its record for 1913 is eighty races and $40,475, as compared with 103 races and $47,452 during the preceding year. The Bedwell stable is made up entirely of horses that are generally designated as of the useful sort, rather than of stake calibre, and their victories were practically all achieved in overnight purse races. The Bedwell stable has figured prominently in American racing since 1909.

Following in the order named come J. O. Talbott, a Denver ma who is a comparatively newcomer in racing; R. F. Carman, prominent New Yorker, who has raced a formidable stable with marked success for several years; Robert Davies, of Toronto, Ont., who likewise figured prominently in the preceding year; Amos Turney, a Kentuckian who was fortunate in the possession of several good young horses; E. R. Bradley, of Chicago, who now breeds and races the thoroughbred on an extensive scale; J. N. Camden, one of the wealthiest citizens of Central Kentucky, who breeds all of his own racers at Hartland Stud and J. W. Hedrick, a Pennsylvanian, who races a large and useful string. All of these won upwards of 825,000.

Of the ten leading money-winners of 1912 who do not figure with equal prominence in the list for 1913. John W. Schorr, H. C. Hallenbeck, F. J. Pons, T. C. McDowell and W. B. Carson continued to race and made respectable showings. The leading money-winning owners of North America, in successive years, beginning with 1902, are shown in the subjoined tabulation:

SMART SET HIT THE LAYERS

HORSES BACKED BY "WISE" MONEY WIN SEVERAL RACES AT CHARLESTON.

La Patrie Carries Colors of Raleigh Colston to Victory in Juvenile Race-Ancon Once More Changes Hands.

Charleston, S. C., January 2.—Continued bad weather and track conditions caused a reduced attendance at Palmetto Park this afternoon, although it was ladies' day. All the races, except the two-year-old scramble, contested by eight fillies, were under selling conditions and brought together ordinary fields. From a speculative standpoint it was a banner day for the smart set, who hit the layers heavily. The public and form students had an unprofitable day.

La Patrie, a black filly by Out of Reach—Consuelo II., running in the colors of Raleigh Colston, won the "baby" race in handy fashion, with Norma L. second and Kewpie third. The winner showed a high flight of speed and handled herself impressively throughout, but it is doubtful if she would have had the easy time she did had not Idiola bolted on the first turn and unseated jockey Byrne. Idiola at the time was running on almost equal terms with La Patrie, with every indication of continuing a game struggle to the finish. Byrne was uninjured by his tumble and the filly stooped herself just in time to prevent crashing into the fence. Kewpie was a sufferer by Idiola's bolt and showed a meritorious performance in taking third place.

Ancon, which has repeatedly changed owners since his advent here, was again transferred after his victory in the selling handleap for sprinters at six furlongs, that featured the card. He was entered for $700 and was bid up to $900 by William Walker, who became his owner at that figure. The public and form followers supported Americus in this race, but the "wise" set backed Ancon confidently. Ancon was put to a hard drive to outstay Robert Bradley, with Americus third.

The "smart set" began the day auspiciously when Jezail, which had received stont support, cantered home in front after a slow beginning. J. McTargart had the mount on the winner today. In former states he had been handled by Chappelt and ansualticity of the first pack.

Another clean-up of the "wise" brigade followed Silas Grump's easy victory in the fifth. Batwa was th

CANADIAN HALF-MILERS TO ORGANIZE.

The ancient rumor that the directors of half-mile racing tracks propose to organize an association after the same fashion as the Canadian Racing Associations is revived. It is certain that the matter has been talked about, but up to the present the idea has got no further than the discussion stage. Pour parlers have been exchanged and something definite may, or may not, be ultimately decided upon. As long as the Racing Associations leave the half-milers alone it would be hard to see what they have got to organize about, Possibly they want a voice in the making of rules. Possibly also their rules being independent of the bigger fellows may lead to disputes that will overturn the entire apple cart.—Harry Good in Montreal Mail.
